The Mother's First Gift.

There is no bereaved mother who can read the ensuing lines without a pang of sorrow and of hope. They are by Mr. Chilton, of Washington, and reflect honor upon his pen and his poetical "gift giving." Dempster has married the most touching music, and sings them with all his heart and feeling effect:

She sits beside the cradle,
And her tears are streaming fast,
For she sees the present only,
While she thinks of all the past;
Of the days so full of gladness,
When her first-born's answering kiss Filled her soul with such a rapture
That it knew no other bliss.
Oh! those happy, happy moments!
They but deepen her despair,
For she bends above the cradle,
And her baby is not there!

There are words of comfort spoken,
And the leader in the cloud of grief Wears the smiling face of promise,
And she feels a sad relief;
But her wailing thoughts will wander Till they settle on the scene Of the dark and silent chamber,
And of all that might have been!
For a little vacant cradle,
Or a shining tress of hair,
Tells her heart, in tones of anguish,
That her baby is not there!

She sits beside the cradle,
But her tears no longer flow,
For she sees a blessed vision,
And forgets all earthly woe;
Sainted eyes look down on her,
And the voices that hushed the sea
Sift her spirit with the whisper,
"Suffer them to come to Me."
And while her soul is lifted
On the soaring wings of prayer,
Heaven's crystal gates swing inward,
And she sees her baby there!

VARIETY.

Never think of raising your reputation by detracting from my faults.

The art of photography is so far advanced that the most perfect likenesses are now being taken.

Gutenberg and Faust printed the Bible with metal types in 1440.

A London paper says that bonnets are almost in visible to the naked eye.

It is said that the Turkish women will be allowed to unveil henceforth.

A Tennessee paper talks of a chap at Holy Springs who was so astonished at seeing a lady bringing music on her piano, that after listening a moment or two, withdrew his head and hallooed after his companion,

"I say Jim, jiss come here. Tarnation if here is a woman pulling music out of her chest!"

"Pray, Prof. Schneewe, what is a periphrasis?"

"Why, madam, it is (ahem!) that is simply a circumlocutionary and elegantic cycle of oratorical sonor-ousness, an atom of idealism, lost in verbal fluency." The luminous illustration the lady tried to catch up instantly, "Oh, that is it—I thought so."

REPUTATION AND CHARACTER.—Many persons regardless of what this world says of them, as certainly than character, or, what they are, often have driven many an innocent and sane person to crime. Remember this in the idle and sinful twaddle about your neighbors, and remember it in your prayers for mercy.

A LOVELESS HOME.—There is no loneliness, there is none in all the waste or peopled deserts of the world hearing the slightest comparison with that of an unloved wife! She stands amidst her family like a living statue among the marble memorials of the past—insistent with life, yet paralyzed with death—the burning tide of natural feeling circling round her heart—the thousand channels quick frozen, through which that feeling ought to flow.—Mrs. Ellis.

TWELVE WAYS OF COMMITTING SUICIDE.—1. Wearing thin shoes and cotton stockings on damp nights, and in cool rainy weather. Wearing insufficient clothing, and especially upon the limbs and extremities.

2. Leading a life of enfeebling, stupid laziness, and keeping the mind in an unnatural state of excitement by reading trashy novels. Going to theaters, parties, and balls in all sorts of weather, in the thinnest possible dress. Dancing, till in a complete
